The Primus Mirror

April - October 2020

The struggle you're in today is developing the strength you need for tomorrow. This edition of The PRIMUS NEWSLETTER is the aftermath of Pandemic Covid-19 which has been ravaging the world since January since 2020. The world has been accepting everything positively wanted to test negative. The rapid changes have been taking place in the field of Education in the new academic year.

In the beginning of the academic year, in the month of April, when all on campus classes were shut and we were confined to our homes and online classes at a time when the future seemed to be very uncertain at least for a while, we at Primus bloomed into a phased new opening.

We welcome you to our 'Primus Mirror'! You'll find that it is filled with educational works, events as well as the creative works of the students.

"April is the cruelest month, breeding lilacs out of the dead land, mixing memory and desire, stirring dull roots with spring rain." –T.S.ELIOT

Investiture Ceremony 2020-2021

The global pandemic of COVID-19 had compelled all of us to stay at home, but this complex and unparalleled situation could not stop us from celebrating special occasions at school, especially the induction of the prefectorial board. It was a very special day as we were turning over a new leaf, at Primus. All were welcomed to the very first virtual investiture ceremony in the history of Primus Private School, where our newly elected members of the senate was invested with their powers.

The Dream

- Veerajaiyakumar.B (3A)

There was a little man named Sarfer. He was 6 years old. His family had gone to the office. He waited for them to come. Soon they came, the whole family ate and slept. The next day morning the boy woke up and went to ISRO and took the rocket and flew to the moon. When he got off the rocket, he did some research like checking if there is water and more things then he felt bored, so he intended to go back to the earth. As soon as he was going to take the rocket the rocket was not working, so he felt dejected and terrified so he slept there itself. When he opened his eyes, he was still in bed at home and he realized everything was a dream. So, he became happy, but the dream was interesting and adventures, so he intended to become an astronaut in the future.

The Charm of My Dream

-Shivani Thattarakkal (3A)

In a land full of chocolates,
Where humans walk with their heads upside down
And the clouds and the stars dance in the dreamy sky,
Where flowers sway in delight,
And birds chirp in glee,
I see myself dancing in the strange land.
Rrrrrr.....screams my mommy,
And I realize it's a dream!
I wish I could visit such a strange land! Well, now
I go to my mommy And you start dreaming.....

Autobiography of a butterfly....

- AYESHA HANIYA- 4C

I was so small when I was in my egg. My mother took care of me under a leaf, she was really loving and caring. One day, while I was sleeping in my tiny egg, suddenly it started to hatch. I was so happy, I finally got to see my family! But when I looked around my brothers started laughing pointing at me, I did not know why and soon found out, they were laughing because I was an ugly caterpillar and I looked like a worm! I wished I could be as pretty as my brothers and my mother. So I asked my mother why I was so ugly, she said, "We are butterflies and butterflies go through a long process called 'metamorphosis' in the first stage, caterpillars will hatch out of eggs and eat many leaves to make a 'pupa'. A pupa is covering of silk which a caterpillar makes to become a butterfly. This is called the larva stage.

Next when it comes out of the pupa it turns into a lovely butterfly, So don't be ashamed because you think you are ugly, you will become a butterfly soon" and so after the long explanation of the life cycle of a butterfly I felt rather bored, so I thought of a really naughty thing to do, it is not good to be naughty but a little naughtiness isn't bad right?

I went inside a nearby house and took a small cabbage which was on the kitchen table. I started nibbling it, when I was half way through a small child spotted me. I cried out - Oh no! Better get out of here before he kills me- I quickly ran out of the house and hid behind a bush I was quite full so I fell asleep there. When I was awake I saw that my mother was sitting beside me. She told me, "It is time for you to make your pupa, I'm sure I explained to you what a pupa is, so now it is your turn to become a butterfly," I was delighted.

For the next few hours, I was busy making a pupa. It was hard work but it was worth it, as I am about to become a butterfly. In about 3 hours I was done and was so tired by that time too, I stayed in my pupa for quite a long time. And then I was ready to get out of it, I couldn't describe how I felt, I felt happy, nervous, excited and a bit sleepy too! I finally got out of there and to my surprise I had bright red and orange coloured wings. After admiring myself I started flying round,

Autobiography of a Teddy Bear

- Ezza Ramseed-Grade 4A

I am a teddy bear. I was made in a factory. After the factory workers made me, they took me and my other friends in a truck to a store. People always came to that store to buy us. When people bought my other friends, I was sad to see them go away. By the time the shop closed every evening, no one would have bought me. This continued for a month or so. Now almost all my friends have been bought except me.

Suddenly a girl named Bethany wanted to buy me and I also overheard what her mom said when she asked her mom if she could buy me. And do you know what she said, her answer was..... yes! After they bought me, they took me to their home. Their home was large, and it had a lot of space. Bethany named me John. She had a brother named Benjamin. Once he saw me, they both started fighting over who should hug me while sleeping. While they were fighting, one of my hands tore off. Bethany started crying because I did not even last a day after she bought me. So, they threw me into the dustbin, and that was the last moment in my life.

An Autobiography of a Doll

Hi, I am Fira, the doll. I was born in Dubai, at a toy factory. I was then moved to a shop called Toys r us in Dubai mall where I met a friend. Her name was Lora. She was a girl teddy bear. She had a pink bow and she was really pretty. Soon after, I was bought by a cute little girl. Shortly, I got to know her name. She was called Lona. She treated me very well. I stayed in her toy room. I lived happily with her.

After two weeks Lona went to U.S.A. She left us alone. One day her nanny threw me out of her toy room. I cried bitterly. Then another small girl picked me up. She said, "This doll is really beautiful! I'm going to take the doll to my home." I was delighted as I knew that a new journey was about to begin...

Nala's wish

The mermaids were swimming to the seashore. There was a new ship wreck happening! All the mermaids reached there except for one mermaid. It was Nala, the smallest and youngest mermaid in the whole group. She was flapping her tail as fast as she could, but she was always the slowest mermaid. Finally, she reached the spot, but the ship had completely wrecked.

The oldest mermaid, Millie, was already sleeping on a big rock. Nala was very sad that she was so slow and could not watch the ship wreck. She was upset and went back to her room and slept. The next day, all the mermaids were waiting eagerly. Nala asked Millie what was going to happen. Millie jumped and said, "We are having a family talk." Nala quickly sat on a chair and waited for the family to gather. Finally Nala's father sat down and said, "There is a treasure in the new ship that wrecked, we have to go and find it."

Everyone except for Nala had dashed off to find the treasure. Nala slowly swam to the ship and started searching with the other mermaids. The mermaids were swimming through the ship like shot bullets but suddenly Nala saw something shiny; it was glowing through a door. The other mermaids saw it too and dashed through the door. But when Nala was going to enter the room the door slammed.

Nala banged on the door, but suddenly she realized that the light was from the next room. The other mermaids did not see it as they were careless. Nala went near the treasure and took it in her hands. Just then she heard her friends, "Nala help us we are trapped in here." Nala looked at the rock she realized that her friends were trapped in. She used her magical powers and then in a blink of an eye they were all safe outside the ship. They all thanked Nala and were about to leave, but then Nala's sister asked, "Do you want us to wait?" Nala said, "No, you go ahead." From then on all the mermaids would always make sure that Nala was always with them.

Autobiography of a Mango Tree

I am a mango tree. I live in an Orchard. I am older than your grandparents, but very strong. I have countless branches, which are always full of green leaves. I also bear tasty fruits. They are very delicious and juicy. When I came to orchard, I was very small. The gardener took care of me ever since then. He gives me water regularly.

With time I have become tall and strong. Now I look after him, when he is tired he comes and rests in my shade. I feel so happy when he enjoys my juicy mangoes.

The Children love to play under my shade and swing on my branches.

They enjoy my shakes with ice cream. I feel blessed to see them play around me.

Sometimes when they pull my branches, I feel extreme pain. I wish the elders could stop them from doing this.

I am the national fruit of India and Philippines. I am the national tree of Bangladesh too. Hope everyone will plant more mango trees and relish my juicy mangoes.....

I'm Keeping My Distance

I'm keeping my distance from everyone today.

I'm trying to stay at least two meters away.

Friends are replaced by sanitisers and wet wipes.

I carry them everywhere; they give me good vibes.

I'm not shaking hands now, or giving high fives,

Instead I do namaste to make sure everybody survives.

I'm wearing a face mask, gloves and face shield.

I'm staying at home. I'm not out in the beach, park or field.

I'm washing my hands every hour or two,

Now I'm convinced that it's the right thing to do.

Since my dog licked me right on the cheek.

I think I need to be quarantined for a week.

Walking Lonely

There I was at the street

Running away from fear,

And there I heard the soft breeze

Leading away from cheer.

I was walking lonely

With only the sound of leaves

Rustling to keep me company,

Along the lonely path is the lamp light.

Which made me feel bright

And brought me some delight.

I fell asleep

Near a tree,

And had a dream

Of the lonely me about to die.

I woke up with a fright

And gathered up some might

I was afraid I would die,

At any time and there I stood wondering

Where I could go to call

SPECIAL ISSUE FOR WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY

Our environment is our surrounding

YASODHA HARIKRISHNAN

Everything that surrounds us is referred to as our environment. It includes living, non-living, natural or manmade things. Our natural environment includes trees, bushes, gardens, rivers, lakes, air etc. Ancient humans lived closer to the natural environment and therefore they lived healthier and longer. But today we are surrounded by the artificial environment that we have created for ourselves - buildings, air conditioned rooms, streets, shopping complexes, vehicles emitting poisonous gases, dust etc. our environment is our surrounding.

We must seek all the positive vibrations from the environment. Our Mother Earth is currently facing a lot of environmental concerns. The environmental problems like global warming, acid rain, air pollution, urban sprawl, waste disposal, ozone layer depletion, water pollution, climate change and many more affect every human, animal, and nation on this planet.

Different environmental groups around the world play their role in educating people as to how their small actions, when combined together, can play a big role in protecting this planet. If you look at the environment around us, you can see that there are a number of issues that come to our attention.

Environment Day

HRISHI SRINIVASAN

Our environment is one of the most important aspects to survive on this planet. Moreover, it is the only thing that can make life sustainable. Without it, we cannot survive even a single day. For instance, our skin will burn, the lungs will get ruptured, our blood pressure would rise. World Environment is celebrated on 5th June every year. People from more than 100 countries celebrate this day. Furthermore, the world environment day is run by the United Nations Environment Program (UNEP). Since the year 1973, there will be...

Since we all know that Global warming is the root cause the ruin of our environment. Pollution of air, water and soil require millions of years to recoup. Industry and motor vehicle exhaust are the number one pollutant. Heavy metals, nitrates and plastic are toxins responsible for pollution. The population of the planet is reaching unsustainable levels as it faces shortage of resources like water, fuel and food. Population explosion in less developed and developing countries is straining it already scarce resources. Therefore, it is our duty to protect our environment. And stop all the exploitation that is destroying it. Because in

You came to me like a hand of love
Wakes me up from my deep sleep
I was waiting for past few months,
To stop the boring days in my coat
The scorching pain of summer
made me weak and pale,
But your touch was cold and calm,
which made me bold and charm,
Oh! Miracle beauty,
You know how to do your duty.

In "Truth" the light dwells,
Darkness falls in the perfect light,
Let's witness the power of great sight.
So let's luminate the darkness in our minds,
And create an environment of great sight.

Different Life

By Aadi Umapathy Movva-8B

Wake up every day with the sunshine on my eyes.
Hearing the neighbor's kid and his cries
Rising to switch off my alarm's loud horn
So much happening in the early morn.

Driver waiting with his crew
But haven't even put on my shoe.
Everybody asleep but gossips at the back
Of the huge rectangle in yellow-black

Unfortunately, now, I stay in my room
And attend all my classes through zoom.

An Unfortunate Trip

-Siyam 8B

Once I went in through the king's gates,
The guards of the palace, stood straight and proud
What I saw inside were angels serving plates
But what I saw first was a huge blinding crowd!

The king's heart of gold I weighed on my scale,
Even the love for my brothers, barely equals it.
From the feast, some will surely go stale
The guards must be tempted, not taking even a bit!

We danced, talked, ate and drank,
Unconscious, I slapped the royal in the face!
Into the guards' stone fists I sank
Now its upto me, for them to chase!

The Girl Without a Dream

-Thomas Varghese Cheeran 8B

The girl looked outside of her window
She saw something that she didn't know
Putting on her coat, she stepped out to look
Just too see a flock of birds and nothing more
Since she was out, she went for a walk
Took a path that went to the park
Looked at the sky filled with clouds and holes
Glanced at the sad trees saying "Can I do more?"

Leaned over a rail staring into the abyss
Wondering if her life was in a miss
Turned back and saw the pond
Told herself that she can go beyond
She looked up at the clear sky.
And watched the tree's leaves beautify
Her light-headed head said "I got a lot of things to do!"
It never went down despite how heavy it seems to you.

A HORRIFIC NIGHT

*I found my dream catchers all broken and bent,
The walls behind my bed with a huge dent.
I rubbed my eyes,
Saw all grey and red
I heard millions of cries,
All I knew, I was in bed.*

*Something in me told me to go back to sleep,
But my curiousness didn't let me asleep.
I got to see horrific aliens,
I witnessed the dark red sky,
Yes, it wasn't a wonderful experience,
And I hoped it was all a lie.*

*All I could do was to scream,
And now I am thankful that it was just a dream.*

The Peacock's Song

- Jai 8B

The air is clean, the skies are blue,
Never have I seen the earth so new
I have ventured out of my hiding place

I feel no fear, no grief, not a trace.
Where are the humans? Where have they gone.
It is the same now from morn to morn.

The rich green earth is ours, ours alone
No human action makes creatures moan
Who would have thought a virus could rule,
Change man's world, leave him a fool,
He roamed the earth like a powerful king
Now hides in his home, aware there is no such thing.

This fear will pass, and humans will win.
But sure they will learn that winning is thin.
The rich green earth is ours, all ours to live.
To it and every creature care we must give.

Projet français sur la tour Eiffel

The Eiffel Tower

The Eiffel Tower, La Tour Eiffel in French, was the main exhibit of the Paris Exposition or World's Fair of 1889. It was constructed to commemorate the centennial of the French Revolution and to demonstrate France's industrial prowess to the world.

The Eiffel Tower is made of iron and weighs around 10000 tonnes.

The French name for the Eiffel Tower is La Tour Eiffel, it also has the nickname La dame de fer which means the iron lady.

Around 50 tonnes of paint are added to the Eiffel Tower every 7 years to protect it from rust.

Jacques Dutronc
play

Thomas Dutronc
play

Despite its height, the Eiffel Tower was designed to be wind resistant, swaying only a few inches in the wind. It actually moves further when the iron on the sun facing side heats and expands, moving the top up to 7 inches (18 centimetres) away from the sun.

The Eiffel Tower is 320 metres (1050 feet) in height and was the tallest man made structure in the world for 41 years before being surpassed by the Chrysler Building in New York.

Relation to Algebra:
The project of the Eiffel Tower was done by drawing several lines, find their slopes and write their equations. This is related to algebra because it allowed students to have a look into the use of Algebra through the construction of the Eiffel Tower.

la Tour Eiffel – The Eiffel Tower

Over 300 metres high.

Was built between 1887-1889.

Sits beside the River Seine in Paris.

When it was first built many people thought it was very ugly.

The tower was only meant to be a temporary structure. It was the winner of a competition to celebrate the centenary of the French Revolution.

It was designed to be easily dismantled as it only had permission to stand for 20 years.

Until 1930 it was the tallest building in the world.

Designed by Gustave Eiffel and his engineering company.

When it was discovered that the tower made an excellent radio antenna, the city of Paris decided to keep it.

The tower is repainted every seven years. It takes 18 months to paint and is painted in 3 shades of brown.

The tower is covered all year round.

The names of 72 famous French engineers and scientists are engraved on the tower, just under the first balcony.

In 2016, a glass floor called the 'le plancher transparent' was installed on the first floor.
